Washington Fire Engine Company, at 7 P. M.
Charleston Social Mounted Club, at 12 M.
Cincinnati Society, at 7 P. M.

Auction Sales This Day.

Wardlaw & Carew will sell at 11 o'clock, at the Postoffice, real estate.
Leitch & Bruns will sell at 11 o'clock, at the Postoffice, real estate, and continue sale of jewelry at No. 247 King street, at 7 o'clock.
J. Fraser Mathewes will sell at 11 o'clock, at the Postoffice, real estate.
R. M. Marshall & Brother will sell at 11 o'clock, at the Postoffice, real estate.
Samuel C. Black will sell at 11 o'clock, at east end Broad street, stock and bonds.
Hutson Lee will sell at 11 o'clock, at east end Broad street, valuable phosphate works.
John G. Milnor & Co. will sell at half-past 10 o'clock, at their store, dry goods, &c.
Wm. McKay will sell at half past 10 o'clock, at No. 45 Westworth street, cows, wagon, furniture, &c.

Mrs. BARBET'S SOLEFISH CLASSES.—Both the solefish classes advertised by Mrs. P. J. Barbet are expected to be formed, and meet at her residence, at five o'clock this afternoon. It is very important that all who have applied for admission to the classes should be present at the first lesson.

THE WASHINGTON LIGHT INFANTRY.—The sixth annual meeting of the Washington Light Infantry Association will be held this evening, at 7 o'clock, at the Merchants' Hotel, corner of King and Society streets. The annual election for officers, &c., will be held.

LARGE SALE OF LOTS.—Messrs. Wardlaw & Carew will sell to-day, in front of the Postoffice, a small dwelling house in Line street, and a large number of contiguous lots fronting, some on Meeting, some on Line, and some on Alton streets. Persons desirous of securing a pleasant home, with the aid of offered under the first loan act, will do well to attend this sale.

NOVELTIES IN SHIPS.—The German ship Palmetto, which arrived here yesterday from New York, has some peculiarities which are not usual, she being four masted, the fourth being bark rigged, and has no jibboom, but simply a bowsprit. She was built in England for a steamer, but was altered into a sailing ship. She is about twelve hundred tons, and is consigned to Messrs. Lessee & Wells.

CLUBS AND STARS.—Robert Simons, reported for having his chimney on fire at No. 11 Ingleton street, was fined two dollars.

David Dickinson, arrested for being drunk and abusing the passersby in Warren street, explained the matter satisfactorily, and was discharged.

Two Inebriates, who found East Bay too narrow and crooked for sober men to walk in, were taken to the Guardhouse and each fined a dollar.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.—By announcement in another column it will be seen that a grand temperance celebration will be held this evening at the Biberian Hall, to which the public is cordially invited. The names presented as speakers insure a rare treat, and should cause the large hall to be filled to overflowing. Rev. H. M. Mood and Rev. C. S. Vedder are always sure to please a Charleston audience, while Robert M. Faust, Esq., past most worthy grandmaster of the National Division of Temperance, is everywhere remembered as a graceful and attractive speaker. A feature of the evening will be music by the Post Band.

THE BLUE RIDGE RAILROAD.—The following is the exact text of the resolution introduced by Alderman Smith at the meeting of City Council on Tuesday night, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the committee on railroads communicate with the city attorney and ascertain from him what is the present status of the investment in the Blue Ridge Railroad, and in what manner that investment and the well understood purposes are affected by the sale of the stock of the State in said road, and by the bill to relieve the State of South Carolina of all liability for its guarantee of the bonds of the Blue Ridge Railroad Company and otherwise, and that the said committee be and are hereby authorized to take proceedings by injunction or otherwise for the protection of the vested interests of the City of Charleston in the Blue Ridge Railroad.

WHY THEY DON'T STOP IN CHARLESTON.—[Scene—Charleston Hotel piazza. Enter country merchant, and to him a drummer.] D. How dy'e do Mr. Jones. C. M. My name is Smith, sir. Don't recollect ever seeing you before, but glad to see you now, sir, anyhow! What can I do for you? D. Hear you're going to New York to trade, sir? C. M. Yes. Anything I can do for you in New York? D. No, sir; but Mr. Smith, why don't you stop in Charleston? C. M. Stop in Charleston? My Lord, sir! I want to buy $5000 worth of goods in one line alone. D. Well of course that line is— C. M. Yes, of course! D. Well our house is in that line, and we would like to sell you $10,000 worth. C. M. No, I don't care! I want to see the name of your house? D. "A. Respectable & Co." C. M. Never heard of them. D. Never heard of them, sir? Borne the same name for fifty years. Why your grandfather used to trade with them! C. M. That may be, sir, but my grandfather has been dead many years, and for myself I never heard nor saw the name of your firm. No, sir, not even in a Charleston paper. Good by, sir. (C. M. gets into a bus for the New York steamer.)

THE FURNAL OF MAJOR F. J. FORBES, yesterday afternoon, at the Unitarian Church, in Archdale street, was largely attended by the friends of the deceased and by the members of the various organizations with which he had been connected. The beautiful little church was lit up, and was so crowded that numbers were obliged to stand in the churchyard during the services. The pastor of the church, the Rev. R. P. Outler, delivered a touching and pertinent discourse, after which the remains were borne by Messrs. Charles Henry, Dr. A. B. Rose, C. B. Miles, Jas. Lowndes, Theo. Jervey and J. B. Mathewes to their last resting place in the churchyard. The flags of the shipping in the harbor, as well as the ensign of the Chamber of Commerce, have been half-masted during the last two days in honor of the deceased merchant. His old fire company, the Phoenix, had their engine-house draped in mourning, and all of the other engine companies showed their sympathy by raising their colors over their houses at half mast. Yesterday afternoon there was a general closing of business houses down town, and the whole community combined to pay a fitting tribute to the upright gentleman whom we have lost.

AMUSEMENTS.

Cheesey Wood.

Everybody has read Dickens, and most of us have read "Bleak House," but if we mistake not, "Cheesey Wood," the dramatic rendering of the great chancery story, was performed last night for the first time upon the Charleston stage, and fortunate were our habitués of the Academy in having a Jansauche to interpret for them the great master of fiction. "Guppy" was very good, almost equal to our pristine idea of that young limb of the law, as obtained from the illustrations that accompanied the numbers of the original "Bleak House." "Ester Summerson" disappointed us. Not that the young lady who last night personated that sentimental piece of perfection of Dickens did not act her part admirably, but because the character plays a large part in the novel, and but a very subordinate one in the play. "Sir Leicester Dedlock" and Mr. Tulliver, acted admirably, and Inspector Buckle was capital. "Jo," however, we think, was the best of all the accessory characters in the drama. He was got up regardless of expense, and if he was not neat in his simplicity, certainly gave a faithful rendering of one of Dickens's most felicitous creations.

The Jansauche as "Lady Dedlock" was herself throughout. Dignity, fear, courage, maternal affection, anguish and remorse, were all depicted in turn, each with so perfect an identification with the character personated, that the audience were at once lost in wonder, and enjoyed the keen intellectual treat of so marvelous an exhibition of dramatic power and versatility. The latter was heightened by the fact of Madame Jansauche playing the double role of Lady Dedlock, and of Hortense, the French waiting maid, which afforded her a splendid opportunity to show her "many-sidedness." The delineation of Hortense was, if it were possible, even still better than that of her Lady Dedlock.

The house last night, we were pleased to see, was again a good one, and to-night, we feel assured, the Academy will be jammed, for our Charleston people have never failed to pay honor to Shakespeare and Macbeth is a favorite play.

THE THREE HUNCHBACKS.—All the little ones, as well as multitudes of children of a larger growth will be delighted to hear that the company which is to occupy the Academy boards next week is a full and well-organized Pantomime Troupe, from Fisk's Grand Opera House in New York—with all the tricks and transformations, dances, fun and frolic, which makes up the enjoyment of such an entertainment. Our neighbors of Augusta are enthusiastic over the company, which is to open Monday night in the Three Hunchbacks.

THE COURTS YESTERDAY.

United States Court.
Before Judge Bryan, in the District Court yesterday, the petition of Geo. R. Congdon, of Georgetown, S. C., for voluntary bankruptcy, was referred to registrar Carpenter for adjudication. The jury not being able to agree in the case of A. G. Heriot, trustee, vs. L. E. Johnson, marshal, as to the ownership of a piece of rice sold by the marshal, a mistrial was ordered. An attachment was ordered for the imprisonment of the assignee, F. O. C. Hanson, bankrupt, for not paying out the dividends due the creditors as ordered on the 24 of September. Daniel Hinson & Son, and Osborn Floyd, of Lancaster, bankrupts, were finally discharged in due form of law.

CRIMINAL DOCKET.—The marshal was ordered to bring Geo. W. Smith, confined in the jail in Greenville County, before the court as early as day as possible to receive his sentence. The Circuit Court.
For five hundred dollars to be paid, the marshal was ordered to convey to J. B. Bissel a tract of land on Combabe River, known as Clark's, of five hundred acres, near Whitehall Station, on the Savannah and Charleston Railroad. Adjourned until eleven o'clock this morning.

The Court of Common Pleas.
Meets this morning pursuant to adjournment for the trial of the cases on the city issue docket. The following cases are set for today:

Chichester & Co. vs. William S. Hastie; James C. Locke vs. Joel Caper; R. DeTreville vs. L. S. K. Bennett; Smith & McGillicray vs. H. L. P. McCormick; Hoffman, Brotham & Co. vs. the Tradesmen Insurance Company; Hoffman, Brotham & Co. vs. the Commercial Fire Insurance Company; Pierre Auguste Marie, Alfred De Chandon vs. T. L. Hutchinson; Louis Alfred Herre vs. T. L. Hutchinson; Robert Austin vs. W. W. Sale & Co.; Chas. M. Rose vs. R. T. Morrison, administrator.

AFTER THE DRY GOODS.—Charlotte Jenkins, a colored girl, was arrested last evening charged with stealing a lot of sheeting and the cloth of another colored girl from the board-house of Mrs. Nolan, No. 588 King street. She confessed all at the mention of jail, restored the clothes and the other stolen property, and was booked for an interview with the Mayor this morning.

MOVED PARADE.—The Charleston Social Mounted Club meet at 12 M. to-day for the purpose of having a friendly trial of skill. The members are requested to be promptly on the ground in King street, above line, and in full uniform. The following are the prizes offered: One silver pitcher, one silver goblet, one set of silver castors, one set of gold sleeve buttons and a set of vases.

"MUSIC HATS CHAIRS."—Last evening the residents in the neighborhood of the Cathedral, were treated to some lively music from St. Patrick's brass band. This organization has fifteen instruments which are performed upon by as many young amateurs of our city. They have but lately begun to practice, and their rendition of home sweet home, and other airs of a more sterling nature last evening in the Cathedral yard, speaks well for the progress they have already made. The band will probably make its first appearance in public on St. Patrick's Day.

THE MASQUERADE OF THE GERMAN REFUGE CLUB will come off at the concert hall of the Academy of Music on the 29th instant, and to judge from the preparations of the committee, the ball will be quite a handsome affair. The time chosen being leap year day, the ladies will be entitled to various unusual privileges, and between twelve and one o'clock will be allowed to choose their own partners, take them down to supper, and otherwise play the devoted to the blushing gallants. This novel feature will doubtless add hugely to the mirth and enjoyment of the evening.

DAY OF PRAYER FOR YOUTH.—In accordance with long custom the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church has appointed this, the third Thursday in February, a day of special prayer for the youth of our land in the course of business, and for schools, colleges and theological seminaries. Two services will be held this Thursday morning at Zion Presbyterian Church, Glee street, at eleven o'clock, and to-night at the Second Presbyterian Church, (Rev. Dr. Smythe,) at half-past seven o'clock. This interesting object is common to all denominations. The public are cordially invited.
